The Free Scholarship Campdirectly west, traveling through paign being conducted by the Hammond Business College. Lansing merchants and the Lansing Journal is creating more genuine interest on the part of the citizens of Lansing than anything of a like nature has ever done before. The demand for free scholarship receipts by the customers at the co-operating stores is the result of the real good work They spent some time at Salt being done by the contestants in Lake City visiting the beautiful asking all of their friends and acquaistances to spend their money interest. Mr. Hoekstra said he had with Lansing merchants. In this enough thrills to do him for at work they are reciving co-operation least another year, in going over in the columns of the Lansing Journal.

The big demand for receipts had exhausted the supply of some of the merchants, but from now on each merchant will keep plenty of the receipts on hand. Lansing citizens are asked to look over the really excellent values in merchandise carried by the co-operating merchants before thinking of mak-arship and credits to apply on receipts (which in reality are cash receipts for money spent,) they can collect during this campaign that will continue up to and including Saturday, September 7.

Hundreds of dollars will be spent with local merchants that would have otherwise been spent away from Lansing.

Words of approval of this Free Scholarship Campaign are heard on every hand and the buying public is responding in wonderful fashion, thus stamping this plan as a really popular community (Continued on Page 6)

T. F. BAND WINS MUSIC FESTIVAL HONORS SATURDAY

Music students of Thornton Fractional high school summer classes made their first competitive appearance Saturday in the Chicago Tribune Music Festival in Chicago and took third place in the Class D entries.

The class D contest was for juvinile bands of 30 members or less and was held at the Knick rbocker hotel. Newell H. Long, direcor of the band said that the average ensemble experience of his players was less than six montys, and that this was their first appearance in competitive playing. This was also the first competitive appearance of any musical group from the T. F. High school, and the students as well as their director are justly proud of the honors received

The T. F. group also appeared with the massed bands at Soldiers Field. Lansing students of the group were Roy Blank, Robert Breidenback, Reed Buffington, Elaine and Eldein Howmiller and Mark Jaeger.

For many years leading farm spokesmen have said that, i nthe president has all the conferees of will depend upon his efforts, his cause one or two members from the own work, his own abilities. The other branch to come over to his bulk of thinking farmers share that side, view. They know that self-help is the only kind of help that can produce permanent results. And they are planning and working accordingly.

Better and more scientific farming, plus improved buying and selling methods made possible by agricultural cooperatives, are the great influences behind farm progress.

IN CONFERENCE

Seven major pieces of legislation have, at this writing, passed both houses of Congress-yet none of them have gone to the White House for executive veto or approval.

Reason: All the bills are in conlerence. These conferences are something that the general public hears little about-but they probably have more influence on the actual fate of disputed legislation than all the dramatic and fiery speeches made on the floors of House or Senate.

Necessity for conferences is obvivous. One branch of congress will pass a bill. It then goes to the other branch. If, as often happens when really important laws are involved amendments or changes are made in bills by this second branch, some way must be found to reconcile the differences. Conference committees. each one customarily made up of five senators and five representatives, _are appointed. These _men then get together, fight, argue and sweat. They are not supposed to add any additional provisions not passed by either branch of congress -they deal only with the points of difference.

One important bill in conference involves amendments to the T. V. A. act. As passed by the senate, this Monday morning and tell him and bill gave he T. V. In some eases, conferees must attempt to iron out basic differences. That is true, for example, of the public utilities act of 1935 and the banking act of 1935.

In the senate version of the public utilities act, holding companies were given a "death sentence" under which all of them, with a few possible exceptions, would have to liquidate and go out of business by 1940. The House dissented-substituted strict regulation for execution. Conference members are getting nowhere in reconciling this difference of opinion-and some believe that the result will be no act at all this year.

A similar situation is holding up the banking act. The administration wants an act croviding for

At any rate, the conference has assumed unusual importance during this session of congress-it has eventually become the arbiter of almost every bill of first importance passed by either house. And conference committees are likely to have to sweat some more over the . "Share-the-wealth" measure.

Gas and Tobacco

Smokers are sometimes accused, by wisecracking friends, of conducting gas attacks. Less grounds for this accusation may some day be found in tobacco which has itself been the subject of a gas attack. Experiments pointing in this direction are reported in a German science Journal. German-grown tobacco was subjected to treatment with ethylene and other gases, during various parts of the fermentation or "ripening" process. These gases are the same as those used in the United States to speed the ripe coloration of fruit and the opening of cut flowers. The results, as tested by skilled tobacco judges, are good.

The couture is dividing attention between the rich heavy types of sllk and the light sheers which are so happily wearable during the milder mid-season days. Among the silks which have attained prominence in the early showing silk serge is outstanding. A heavily crinkled silk taffeta is also launched. silks as satin-faced silk gabardine for street dresses and silk alpaca, and that which is most interesting, a collection of silks which look almost as if they were wool but which are in reality "pure silk." It is needless to say that these heavler silks tailor superbly and are ideal for the autumn suit. The fall feeling is stimulated with details of luxurious furs and a wealth of costume jewelry together with touches of exquisite lace, all of which forecasts the coming season as one of elegance in dress.

Just to give some idea of the smart and active doings going on in the realm of silks we are grouping in our illustration reproductions a few snapshots taken at random of models recently displayed in the French couture showing held by the international silk guild.

To the left, a charming afternoon suit is made of sherritone silk with a mat surface, has a three-quarter jacket. Flowers lined with brown leather are at the neck. Petal pieces at the hemline of both coat and skirt carry out the floral motif. Fitch-dyed sable makes the collar and cuffs. A second view of this smart outfit is given below to the Novelty silk crepe in a rich green, fashions the suit to the right above. Points of interest are the collarless jacket and the graceful threequarter sleeves. Just below, this same suit is pictured with different hat and gloves. The fact that milady is wearing long suede gloves is important as a forerunner of their survival this fall.

In the new silks the rich colors of the Italian renaissance are given prominence. Vivid clear reds, deep purples, hunter and olive greens. warm browns, all are represented. The use of black is also encouraged, in most instances with a vivid contrast touch to enliven it.

In three-piece suits loose jackets and pleated skirts, also the many gored skirt with contrasting blouses, are in the lead. Afternoon dresses feature long slender lines with lavish use of dressmaker detail. Evening gowns that are draped in Hindu or Greek fashion, with slenderness somehow preserved, are the favorites and the new supple crepes and silks yield admirably to this treatment.

Sinking of the Sultana

In the spring of 1865 the federal transport Sultana was busily engaged carrying the released federal soldiers from Vicksburg to their homes. On April 27, 1865, she arrived at Memphis. While steaming along some 90 miles above that point her boilers suddenly exploded and she sank almost immediately. She carried 2,134 paroled Union soldiers. About 1,900 perished.

ILLINOIS 1936 PLATES BLACK AND WHITE

Black and white will be the color scheme for automobile places in 1936, Secretary of State J. nation are the butwark of personal Hughes announced today. Contract for manufacturing plates was awarded the C. H. Hanson company

The contract calls for the manu facture of approximately 1,300,000 passenger plates and 200,000 trucks, motorcycle and traller plates. The specifications are for 24 gauge

The numerals on the plates will be white on a black background. "Hilmois 1936" will be below the numerals instead of above as on the 1935 plates This change is made to thwart any attempt to defraud the state by painting this year's plates to conform with the 1936

Secretary Hughes called attention to the fact that passenger car plates this year will cost less than heretofore. The reduction is as fol-

$8.00 plates reduced to $6.50 $12.00 plates reduced to $10.50 20.00 plates reduced to $17.00 $25.00 plates reduced to $22.00 Motorcycle fees are reduced from $4 00 to $3.00.

The reduction was made through the efforts of Secretary Hughes and Governor Horner. It is es-timated that the cut will save car owners nearly $2,000,000.

DUNES RICH IN AUTIUMN BLOSSOMS

Pink orchids and yellow cactus flowers, silvery green juniper with silvery berries, painted cup, shoot-ing stars, blazing stars and sea rockets

The list sounds like a fire-works program, but it isn't. It's just a few of the brilliant blossoms and interesting plants that are bursting with beauty in the new Dunes Park of Illinois between Waukegan and the Wisconsin state line.

The cacti are in blossom now.

The orchids will be along in a few days. They are not exactly the same as those one sees in the florists windows but they're of the same family.

And speaking of families, the plants and flowers at Dunkes Park grow in sociable "associations" con-fined to definite areas somewhat like the "social strata" in a big

Mrs. Homer F. Horton of the Glencoe Garden club, a well known botanist who has been studying the park's plant life for years, has this interesting information for the visitor who wants to find the various "families" at home in their native

"On the storm beach proper, that is, the sandy stretch in places 200 feet wide and wider, closest to Lake feet wide and wider, closest to Lake Michigan, there is no growth what-soever." Mrs. Horton explains. "Be-yond the storm beach, comes the beach association, scant numbers of sea rocket, beach pea and worm-wood. The first two, by the way, are usually confined to sea but they flourish here at Dunes Park.

"Next come the fore-lunes, adding more plants such as binding grasses, and reed and marram, the ding more plants such as binding grasses, and reed and marram, the sand cherry and the furry willow. "As one walks west from the lake he passes through other associations of plants. In the cottonwood done, the Balm of Glead trees, willows and dogwood have been able to withstand the sand drifts and while buried deep, keep their heads above the encroaching tide. Further in are the black oaks, with their own characteristic associations of plants Between the sand ridges, lie the swales. Here thrive the orchids, grass of Parnassus, the royal and marsh-shield ferns and other bogloving species.

"The alpine and far-north bearberry, called Kinnikinnik in Colorado, grows and bears its pink flowers in the fall. Some of the plants are parasitic, the violet broom-rape, found under the plants, the lemon yellow Terndia and the planted cu, gaining their sustenance from the roots of other plants."

The flower panorama at Dunes Fork is constantly changing, Mrs. Horton points out One of the beauties of the fall is the fringer gentian, "dvailing the blue of n june sky."

GOOD THOUGHTS

Religious liberty, educational and economic opportunity, constitu-tional rights, the Integrity of the law, these do not emanate from the government. Their abiding place is with the people. They come from consecreation of the father, the love of the mother and the devotion of the children. They are the product of that honest, earnest and tireless effort that goes into the rearing of the family altar and the making of the home. —Calvin Coolidge.

Keep the home near heaven. Let it face toward the Father's house. Not only let the day begin and end with God, with mercles acknowled-ged and forgiveness, sought, but let it be seen and felt that God is our chiefest joy, His will in all you do the absolute and sufficent reason James Hamilton.

However luxurious one's earthly habitation may be, however blessed with human affection, one never knows the true sense of home until knows the true sense of home until one has awakened spiritually to the realization true spiritual selfhood. With joy one then discovers that he veritably belongs to the "house-hold of God," and that peace, glad-ness, and sustenance of the Father's realm all are his. Healing for every unhappy and unideal human rela-tionship lies in gaining the right apprehension of God.—The Chris-tian Science Monitor.

NEW LAW STRESSES TRAFFIC SIGNALS

Hand signals by automobile drivers are required under the new uniform act regulating traffic on the highways in Illinois. According to this act, no person shall turn a validle, stongers of the control to this act, no person shall turn a vehicle, stop or suddenly decrease its speed without first having given adequate warning to motorists in the rear, or approaching from the opposite direction, or to pedestrains. The new signaling requirements are the same as those in many states, the left turn being indicated by an arm extended horizontally.

by an arm extended horizontally from the car window; a right turn, by the arm extended upward, or by by the arm extended upward, or by a beckoning motion, sweeping the arm from the rear to the front, while the intention to stop or slow down is indicated by an arm ex-tended downward.

"These signaling requirments are desirable," said Charles M Hayes, president of the Chicago Motor Club, "because they remove much of the guesswork from driving It will do away with the uncer-tainty caused when the car ahead of you swings to the left, perhaps to make an easier right turn, or to turn left, although the outcome cannot be predicted until the man-emmo be prenetted until the man-euwer is completed.

"Failing to signal, or improper signaling, was the principal cause of 220 traffic deaths and 33,420 injuries in the United States in 1934."

THE FLOOD TEST OF CHARACTER Section 21-Matthew 7:24-29

24. Therefore whosoever heareth these sayings of mine, and doeth them, I will liken him unto a wise man, which built his house upon a rock: 25. And the rain descended, and the floods came, and the winds blew, and beat upon that house; and it fell not: for it was founded upon a rock. 26. And every one that heareth these sayings of mine, and doeth them not, shall be likened unto a foolish man, which built his house upon the sand: 27. And the rain descended, and the flood came, and the winds blew, and beat upon that house; and it fell: and great was the fall of it. 28. And it came to pass, when Jesus had ended these sayings, the people were as-tonished at his doctrine: 29. For he taught them as one having authority, and not as the scribes.

Actual facts and figures about Gas Heating costs

Thousands of families have had months of actual experience with gas heat. They have had time to compare and decide. They prefer gas heat. Read these typical statements and learn why.

HERE'S no doubt of it! Every day more and I more people are cheering the advantages of gas heat. Thousands of families, after two heating seasons, are more enthusiastic than ever. They have had time to judge for themselves whether or not gas heat delivers what it claims it will. And they have decided in favor of gas heat!

Houses are free of soot and grime. No dirty, smudgy walls. No soot-streaked curtains and drapes. No one in the house has suffered aches and pains in shoveling, shaking grates, hauling ashes. Thousands have discovered how clean homes can be kept during a long heating season, how leisurely heating tasks can be taken. Gas heat is automatic. It requires no attention, night or day, other than just the mere flip of a switch on the thermostat. That's all there is to attending gas heat. No more worry or trouble than that.

Many people have said that gas heat, at any cost, would be indispensable. Yet at its present reasonable cost gas heat is tremendously attractive for every home. Investigate gas heat now. Learn how simple it is to try gas heat-how little it costs when you consider all the joys it brings into your home.

Get in touch with your nearest Public Service office for complete details and for free accurate estimate of what it will cost to heat your home with gas.
